SEOSKI TURIZAM U KOSJERICU

Kosjerić je jedno od mesta gde je seoski turizam i počeo. U vreme kada su lokalna domaćinstva pripremala pite i kiselo mleko za goste, seoski turizam kakav danas poznajemo, maltene nije ni postojao. Ta tradicija se, na našu sreću, nastavila i danas. Čitavi autobusi dece iz velikih gradova iz zemlje i sveta dolaze da uče kako se pravi džem, da zamese hlepčić, beru lekovito bilje ili se voze na zaprežnim kolima. Mnoge porodice dođu da uživaju u čistom vazduhu i da se eventualno priključe seoskim radovima, a onda se počaste pršutom i kajmakom. Da ne pominjemo da su temperature u ovakvom zelenilu, uvek niže nego na betonu.

OČUVANJE TRADICIJE

Gde drugo možete da oživite školski čas iz prve polovine XX veka, ako ne u ovakvom jednom ambijentu? Naime, u selu Subjel se održava „Čas mojih predaka“ onako kako je on izgledao 1932. godine kada je stara škola ponovo počela sa radom. Moderni dečaci i devojčice sede u starinskim klupama uz šajkače i pletene torbice.

RURAL TOURISM IN KOSJERIC

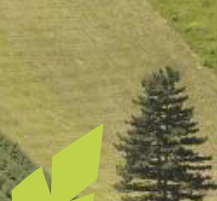

Kosjerić is one of the places where rural tourism began. At a time when local households prepared pies and sour milk for guests, rural tourism as we know it today hardly even existed. Thankfully, that tradition has continued and remains alive today. Buses full of children from large cities in the country and abroad come to learn how to make jam, bake small loaves of bread, pick medicinal herbs, or ride in horse-drawn carts. Many families visit to enjoy the fresh air and perhaps even take part in farm work, and then taste homemade domestic products like smoked ham and kajmak. Not to mention that the temperatures in such greenery are always lower than those in urban areas.

PRESERVING TRADITION

Where else can you revive a school lesson from the early XX century, if not in such an ambient? In the village of Subjel, the "Class of My Ancestors" is held in the way it looked in 1932, when the old school reopened. Modern boys and girls sit in antique desks wearing "šajkače" (traditional Serbian hats) and carrying woven bags.
